101 Nature of Employment

You became a field employee at Masiello Employment Services voluntarily and your employment is at will. "At will" means that you are free to resign at any time, with or without cause. Likewise, "at will" means that Masiello Employment Services may terminate your employment at any time, with or without cause or advance notice, as long as we do not violate any applicable federal or state law.

Masiello Employment Services field employees are not guaranteed employment. Employment as a field employee may be for a limited duration. Employment may be shorter or longer than the original time period that we agreed to when you were first hired.

The policies in this handbook are not intended to create a contract. The policies should not be construed to constitute contractual obligations of any kind or a contract of employment between Masiello Employment Services and any field employee. The provisions in the handbook have been developed at the discretion of management and, except for the policy of employment-at-will, may be amended or cancelled at any time, at the sole discretion of Masiello Employment Services.

These provisions replace all other existing policies and practices and may not be changed or added to without the express written approval of the chief operating officer of Masiello Employment Services.

103 Equal Employment Opportunity

Masiello Employment Services does not discriminate in employment opportunities or practices on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law.

We will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless making the reasonable accommodation would result in an undue hardship to Masiello Employment Services.

Our Equal Employment Opportunity policy covers all employment practices, including selection, job assignment, compensation, discipline, termination, and access to benefits and training.

If you have a question about any type of discrimination at work, talk with your Recruiter or Director of Operations. You will not be punished for asking questions about this. Also, if we find out that anyone was illegally discriminating, that person will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

107 Immigration Law Compliance

Masiello Employment Services is committed to employing only people who are United States citizens or who are aliens legally authorized to work in the United States. We do not illegally discriminate because of a person's citizenship or national origin.

Because we comply with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, every new field employee at Masiello Employment Services is required to complete the Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9 and show documents that prove identity and employment eligibility.

In addition, we conduct e-Verification of every field employee.

If you leave Masiello Employment Services and are rehired, you must complete another Form I-9 if the previous I-9 with Masiello Employment Services is more than three years old, or if the original I-9 is not accurate anymore, or if we no longer have the original I-9.

If you have questions or want information on the immigration laws, contact your Recruiter or Director of Operations. If you ask questions or want to complain about the immigration law, you will not be punished in any way.

Masiello Employment Services keeps personnel files on all field employees. The personnel files include the job applications and related hiring documents, training records, performance documentation, salary history, and other employment records.

Personnel files are the property of Masiello Employment Services. Because personnel files contain confidential information, the only people who can see them are people with a legitimate business reason.

If you wish to review your own file, contact the Recruiter or Director of Operations. You will need to give advance notice if you wish to see your file.

Field employees are not authorized to answer questions about reference information on other field employees. Reference requests should be forwarded to the Recruiter or Director of Operations.

204 Personnel Data Changes

It is important that Masiello Employment Services have certain personal information about you in our records. You need to tell us as soon as there is a change to your mailing address, telephone numbers, marital status, dependents' information, educational accomplishments, and other possibly related information. We also need to have information about who to contact in case of an emergency. To change your personal information or if you have questions about what information is required, contact the Recruiter or Director of Operations.

401 Timekeeping

Field employees are responsible for accurately recording the hours they work. The law requires Masiello Employment Services to keep accurate records of "time worked" in order to correctly calculate employee pay and benefits. "Time worked" means all the time that field employees spend performing their assigned work.

If you are asked to complete a paper timecard, you must accurately record the time you start and stop work, when you start and end any meal periods or split shifts, and when you leave the workplace for personal reasons. Before you work any overtime, you must always get advance approval from your supervisor at your assignment. Field employees using paper timecards must sign their time records to say they are accurate.

If you are asked to record your time on the timekeeping system at your assignment site, you must punch in and out when you start and stop work, when you start and end any meal periods or split shifts, and when you leave the workplace for personal reasons. Before you work any overtime, you must always get advance approval from your supervisor at your assignment.

- At some assignment sites the timekeeping system will automatically clock you in and out for a 30-minute lunch.
- If your lunch break is more or less than 30 minutes, you are expected to notify Masiello Employment Services immediately so that we may make an adjustment to your timekeeping records.

Falsifying time records is a serious matter. You may not change time after it is already recorded, enter a false time on purpose, tamper with time records, or record other employees' time for them. If you do any of these actions, you may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination

Masiello Employment Services will review all time records before submitting them for payroll processing.

If corrections or changes are made to the time record, both you and Masiello Employment Services must initial the changes on the time record. Masiello Employment Services may contact you to discuss these changes and request that you update the time records. So that we may ensure the changes are processed accurately and within timelines, you are expected to return calls from Masiello Employment Services within 24 hours.

Field employees who consistently turn their time sheets in after the required deadline and/or who do not return calls within 24 hours will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

403 Paydays

All employees are paid weekly every Friday. Each paycheck includes pay for all work performed through the end of the previous payroll period. If a payday falls on a holiday, you will be paid on the last workday before that payday.

If you feel there is an error in your paycheck, you should immediately notify the Recruiter or Director of Operations.

410 Pay Deductions

Laws require Masiello Employment Services to take deductions from your pay. Deductions are money taken from your pay for certain things such as federal, state, and local taxes. The law also requires us to deduct Social Security taxes from your pay. We must deduct up to a certain amount called the Social Security "wage base." We also contribute to your Social Security.

Pay deductions may be taken for legal garnishments presented to Masiello Employment Services against field employees, such as child support. If you want to know why money was deducted from your paycheck or how your pay is calculated, see the Recruiter or Director of Operations.

501 Safety

Our workplace safety program is a top priority at Masiello Employment Services. We want Masiello Employment Services to be a safe and healthy place for employees, customers, and visitors. Masiello Employment Services is responsible for implementing, administering, monitoring, and evaluating the safety program. We work closely with our client companies to ensure safe working environments for our field employees. A successful safety program depends on everyone being alert and committed to safety.

We regularly communicate in different ways with employees about workplace safety and health issues. These communications may include bulletin board postings, memos, or other written communications. A Joint Loss Management Committee has been established to assist in these activities and to facilitate effective communication between employees and management about workplace safety and health issues.

Field employees receive workplace safety training at the Masiello Employment Services office and are required to pass a safety quiz before they are sent on an assignment. The training covers possible safety and health hazards as well as safe work practices and procedures to eliminate or reduce hazards. The client company where you are assigned to work will provide site-specific safety training. Please contact the Recruiter or Director of Operations if you do not receive this training.

Some of the best safety improvement ideas come from employees. If you have an idea, concern, or suggestion on how to improve safety in the workplace, tell the Recruiter or Director of Operations. We want you to know that you can report any concerns about workplace safety anonymously and without fear of reprisal.

You are expected to obey all safety rules and be careful while working on an assignment for Masiello Employment Services. You must immediately report any unsafe condition to your job site supervisor and to Masiello Employment Services. If you violate safety standards, you may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. Some examples of violations could include causing a hazardous or dangerous situation, not reporting a hazardous or dangerous situation, not wearing your required Personal Protective Equipment, violating a safety rule and not correcting a problem even though you could have corrected it.

We also ask that you notify us immediately if you are asked to perform any job duties that were not described to you when you accepted the assignment.

It is very important that you tell the Recruiter or Director of Operations immediately about any accident that causes an injury, no matter how minor it might seem at the time. When you report it quickly, we can investigate the accident promptly, follow the laws, and start insurance and worker's compensation processing. Failure to report an injury in a timely manner may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

704 Attendance and Punctuality

We expect Masiello Employment Services field employees to be reliable and punctual. You should report for work on time and as scheduled. In the rare event that you cannot come to work or you will be late for any reason, you should notify the Masiello Employment Services office first and then call the supervisor at the client company as soon as possible in advance of the anticipated tardiness or absence.

Unplanned absences can disrupt work, inconvenience other employees, and affect productivity. If you have a poor attendance record, miss any scheduled work without notification, or demonstrate excessive lateness, you may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
